

Officer Negative, End Of The Beginning

The time has come
God's only Son
you will be judged
for what you've done
you lived your life
the worldly lie
it's now too late
you're gonna die

so you're on your knees with a big fat please and tears in your eyes you're gnashing at your teeth
"oh Lord spare my life" you ask him for forgiveness you tell him you're to blame but what's there to forgive he never knew your name

you had your chance
you turned it down
you lived your life
on earthly ground
torment and pain
is what you'll reap
forever death
is what you'll keep

So what's your choice
the time is near
don't leave this earth
without a care
Christ died for you
so you could live
lay down your life
it's all to give

it's the end of the beginning life and death it starts the end of the beginning together or apart
