

Okean Elzy, Voices Are Rising

Too many thoughts
Too many words
Stuck in my head
Nothing is easy
Not enough time
Nothing inside
Painted in black
Losing the feeling

And the water drowns me out
But the silence breaks the sound

Voices are rising
Just let it out right now
Tears that you're hiding
Just let 'em all fall down
And I'll sing till my heart makes a sound
And I'll sing till my heart's breaking out
Voices are rising

Give me a sign
Throw me a line
Open the door
I need to be there
I wanna know
I wanna feel
Open my heart
Just let me in now

And the water drowns me out
But the silence screams so loud

Voices are rising
Just let it out right now
Tears that you're hiding
Just let 'em all fall down
And I'll sing till my heart makes a sound
And I'll sing till my heart's breaking out
Voices are rising
Rising

And I'll sing till my heart makes a sound
And I'll sing till my heart's breaking out
And I'll sing till my heart makes a sound
And I'll sing till my heart's breaking out
And I'll sing till my heart's breaking out
