

One True Thing, I'll Wait

From a distance
I hear them call
For you
And For me
For everything they see
On a mission
Losing their minds
For love
And for hate
For freedom they can take□□
Your decision
You go along
And give up your life
To fight for what went wrong

And you know
That I know
That you wont come back again
And you know
That I go
But I use myself in it
I would wait into the summer
And into the winter
I'll wait for you
I will
I'll hold onto u tightly
And wait for you nightly
I'll wait for you

In the twilight
Hours pass slow
The minutes roll by
As summer turns to snow
I decided I'm not that strong
I couldnt grow up
And fight what I know is wrong

And you know
That I know
That you won't come back again
And you know
That I'd go
But I'd lose my faith in it
I wait into the summer
And into the winter
I'll wait for you
I will
I hold onto you tightly
And pray for you nightly
I'll wait for you

la da da da da da da

I wait into the summer
And into the winter
I'll wait for you
I will
I'll hold onto you tightly
And pray for you nightly
I'll wait for you
I will
I wait into the summer
And into the winter
I'll wait for you

From a distance I hear them call
For you and for me and for everything they see
On a mission
Losing their minds
For love
And for hate
And for freedom
