

Osada Vida, Those Days

Where are You now, I?m wondering how are You.
Someone told me You?re well, tell me - is it true?
I can still remember our childhood times
Spending all nights, watching starry sky.

Why do we have to lose our minds
Where are those days when we were so free
What should we do to bring those wonderful times
Why can?t we live like we had our hearts open

Those days are gone,
All we are left is just memories
Now I know, the world isn?t fair
We?ve got our lives and there?s no one who cares

Love till the end, many secrets that we keep
Dreaming about the future of You and Me
Time changes everything, I see it right now
Things we believed, we finally lost somehow

Why do we have to lose our minds
Where are those days when we were so free
What should we do to bring those wonderful times
Why can?t we live like we had our hearts open

Those days are gone,
All we are left is just memories
Now I know, the world isn?t fair
We?ve got our lives and there?s no one who cares
