

Over Kyoto, On & On

Give me silence for a while
You stole my peace and broke my heart

The things you've done with no regrets
Oh, my God why?
Why can't you understand?

You've got my soul
You've got my brain
You brought me all my hopes and fears
I hear you talking in my head
On and on and on again
You've spoiled my soul
You've spoiled my brain
Everyday you play your game
Your words keep haunting me this way
On and on and on again

One your move and I'm falling down
Like fairy lover you pull me through the time

You've cut me off
Your perfect life
Oh, my God now?
it doesn't matter why

You've got my soul
You've got my brain
You brought me all my hopes and fears
I hear you talking in my head
On and on and on again
You've spoiled my soul
You've spoiled my brain
Everyday you play your game
Your words keep haunting me this way
On and on and on again
