Ozark Mountain Daredevils, Look Away

(PIANO & amp; GUITAR INTRO)

well, babe, you could be a standing in my kitchen or floating on your back in a deep blue sea a wiser is the man who seeks new visions and tries to keep his heart and mind toll-free look away, oh, Lord, look away, yeah look away, oh, Lord, look away a running along, peeking down hole and alley just tryin' to find the Gospel, don't you know I heared the sound of a cryin' down in the valley, but what is there is only sticks and stones look away, oh, Lord, look away, yeah look away, oh, Lord, look away (GUITAR SOLO) a checking it out in town I'm feeling lonely, you know that some of them women sure look good a checking it up and down, now you should have told me there ain't no pretty things in my neighborhood look away, oh, Lord, look away, yeah look away, oh, Lord, look away (short GUITAR SOLO)

look awaaay,

look awaaay,

look awaaay
