

Paolo Nutini, Pull It From My Heart

After what youve done here
Do you really want to start
then you have to pull it out
This bullet from my heart
Four and twenty photographs that printed on my brain
Kind of sort of images that bring back all the fame
If the law of averages will come and be the same
Get out all of this news and . Again
Consciousness and bandages its time to get it right
Refuses to abandon ship and sing without a fight
Maybe I should take a trip and start with something new Pull this bullet from my heart Its better without you
Its not raining; you wont rain on me again
Its not raining; you wont rain on me again
If fashion is the key, youve got the latest style
Its just a shame you will spend youre whole life in denial
Find someone to blame and havent even get it right
Come up with new excuses and I lost out on the side
Baby your disease is something I cant really stand
Im not too proud to say it but some people understand
Im shouting pretty loud, yeah Im beating pretty hard
But I have to pull it out This bullet from my heart
Its not raining, you wont rain on me again
Its not raining, you wont rain on me again
After what youve done here
Do you really want to start
Then you have to pull it out
This bullet from my heart
