

Paperback Hero, Red

Onto an airplane
A trip I must take
Needing to leave you behind
Sitting alone, watching the window
Playing off scenes in my mind

The day will come when the comets fade
And love is all you can take.
Look to an angel to hold your hand,
And guide you through all the way

The morning comes and I see red
Strangely shaking, were the lives you left
The morning comes and I see red
Softly spoken, were the words you said
It's what we shared.

Strangely I'm feeling
Stroll up the walkway
The smile it slides on my face
The time that we shared
Embrace for a moment
A moment that can't be replaced

A day will come when the comets fade
And love is all you can take (take, take)
I spoke to an angel who holds my hand
And guide me through all the way

The morning comes and I see red
Strangely shaking, were the lives you left
The morning comes and I see red
Softly spoken, were the words you said
It's what we shared

The morning comes and I see red
Strangely shaking, were the lives you left
The morning comes and I see red
Softly spoken, were the words you said

The morning comes and I see red
Strangely shaking, were the lives you left
The morning comes and I see red
Softly spoken, were the words you said

It's what we shared
And I see red
It's what we shared
And I see red
It's what we shared
