

Pato Banton, Wishing On A Star

Most men sometimes
wish to drive an expensive car.
Most men sometimes
think of traveling and going far.
But I'm here all alone wishing on a star
one day very soon I can be just where you are.

It's been far too long now that I've been away from you.
I'm missing your loving and hope that you feel the same way too.
But I'm many miles away praying for the day
to hold you in my arms and be close to you again.

You're always in my thoughts
and always in my dreams.
Patience is a virtue
but I wait for you impatiently.
You see I've got this longing feel
I know this love is real girl.
I'll show you wait and see
I just hope that you love me.

Yes I'm wishing on a star
to be just where you are.
