

Paul McCartney, Back In Brazil

Back In Brazil
there lives a girl
dreams of the future
and a far far better world

Back In Brazil
she meets a man
he's tall and handsome and he fits in with her plan

bright light's ahead
music and fun
nights are for dancing
and the days are for the sun all kinds of weather will surely come and go but they're together
will steal the show

ichiban

ichiban
ichiban
ban ban ban ban ban

Back In Brazil
she make a date
he has to cancel
;cos they've got him working late

Back In Brazil
she feels afraid
hope starts to crumble
and the dreams begin to fade

her lights are out
she's got to bed
nights are for sleeping if a girl's to get ahead even the weather
has started changing too but they'll be together and together they will make it through

so we raise a family as the clouds roll by making pictures of us in the sky
the kids are happy

and they don't ask why
ba de da de da
you and I
