

Paul Weller, 22 Dreams

I had 22 dreams last night
And you were 21,
the last one I saved for myself
Just to save my soul

I get consumed by your fire and grace
I lose control when I'm in that place

I had 22 dreams last night

I had 44 films to watch
But only one contained the mysteries of your secret smile
The rest were dull and plain

You woke me up with a loving kiss
I remember all the things I missed
You lose so much with the darkness gone
I fell in love with the morning sun

I had 22 dreams last night

I had 22 dreams last night
And you were 21
that's an awful lot of dreams
That's enough for anyone.
