

Paul Weller, Now The Night Is Here

Let's you and I
blow gently on
the embers of today
now the night is here
to tell us - to be in love Let us not talk
harshly now
our time is to reconcile
Now the night softly says that the world is here to stay falling out misty dreams we arrive so swift it seems to be no velvet dress can compare to your beauty face so fair and your grace shall carry you through to a better place
and i shall follow you
let's cast the wind
that brought us here
'til we know not when
to be in love
