Paula Cole, Tiger

where do i put this fire this bright red feeling this tiger lily down my mouth he wants to grow to twenty feet tall

CHORUS:

i've left bethlehem i feel free i've left the girl i was supposed to be and someday i'll be born i'm so tired of being shy i'm not that girl anymore i'm not that straight A anymore i want to sit with my legs wide open and laugh so loud that the whole damn restaurant will turn and look at me and say look at the tiger jumping out of her mouth

no more sex-starved teachers trying to touch my ass i can finally be a teenager at age twenty-six go to hell lions, tigers, and bears i'm not afraid of you anymore and my fear broke apart like fifty balloons and i'm thrown around the room like party confetti now

chorus

someday i'll be born someday someday someday i'll be born someday someday someday i'll be born high and noon (13 times)
