

Pawbeats, Refuge (ft. Robert Cichy, Monika Borz)

If I know, If I know
If I know that I'll be
A wealthy guy with the biggest team
Then I hope, then I hope
Then I hope, that I'll give
Everyone something just for free
So let me know, let me know
Let me know and I'll step
Too close to you in front of your bound
Then I'll try to realize, that my start of living days
Different when ... is not around

From all the money I can't see
From all stories heard from people
These eyes are more than free
Generations of unspoken pain without reason
From all the money I can't see
From all stories heard from people
These eyes are more than free

I blame myself for this, but I do nothing more
Than telling everyone around that this is our fault
So should I get a gun and try to go to war
Or should I buy a pen and try to kill with every word
So please open your eyes and take a one step back
Realize that the same your TV show this is effect
Don't fake a chief, you're trembling like a leaf
Use your force to make any course and stop this global waste

The wolf, the wolf is running
The wolf is running away
The wolf, the wolf is running
The wolf is running away
The wolf, the wolf is running
The wolf is running away
The wolf, the wolf is running
(The wolf is running away)

From all the money I can't see
From all stories heard from people
These eyes are more than free
Generations of unspoken pain without reason
From all the money I can't see
From all stories heard from people
These eyes are more than free

Nowadays we're celebrating the nightlife
Seeing nothing but limelight
Like nobody wants to mention
War is going on outside!
Where the people miles away
Forced by house of lies to fight for dimes in hand
And I'm so smart when I talk that way watching from my cloud still Save stack with chasing paychecks and fight dreams
If hard to think about that days losing pursuit out the trees
If you're are addicted to comfort and fine things

So if you knew, if you knew, that I live
In a beautiful world
Would you blame, would you blame
Your God or my pathetic soul?
So if you knew, if you knew, that I live
In a beautiful world
Would you blame, would you blame

Your God or ... hummm...

Hummm...

Hummm...

Hummm...
