

Pearl Jam, Superblood Wolfmoon

Super Blood Wolf Moon
took her away too soon
took her away too soon

I can hear you
singing in the distance
I can see you when I close my eyes once you were somewhere and now you're everywhere
I'm feeling selfish and I want what's right

I ask for forgiveness
I beg of myself feeling every night that I see right now I feel like an innocent searching for reveal hypnogogic resonance I feel not much of anything and the cause is life or death a life of hopelessness, focus on you focusness I've been hopin' and I hope that I don't know anything

I could give everything feels like our life is going way too fast both my eyes are swollen my face is broken and I am hope that I hurt you hope that I hurt you

hope that I hurt you

she was a stunner and I am stunned and the first thought or second thought "could be the one" I was a prisoner of keys and the cuffs I was feeling fortunate to be locked up but the world got to spinnin' always felt like it was endin' and love right, it was standin' we are each of us

I can hear you
and now you're everywhere
I'm feeling selfish and I want what's right

I ask for forgiveness
I beg of myself
feeling every night that I see

took her away too soon

I can hear you

focus on you focusness turn around for hopelessness I've been hopin' and all hope was lost
just like our life it's going way too fast
