Pet Shop Boys, Decadence

You don't care about nothing So you don't care about love If you want me to come back You'd better change

You'd better give up talking about money Begin thinking of love If you want me to come back You'd better change

You'd better change for the better It cost more than dollars and cents Take it from me there's - got to be An end to this decadence This decadence

You don't care about people So you don't care about pain If you want me to come back You'd better change

You'd better change for the better Start using some common sense Take it from me there's - got to be An end to this decadence

For decadence - is fatal It's the beginning of the end In self-defense I cannot recommend This decadence

You don't care about real life You're too distant and strange If you want me to come back

You'd better change for the better It may be rather intense Stop this caprice, you've got to cease This fin-de-siecle pretence

For decadence - is fatal It's the beginning of the end In consequence I cannot recommend This decadence This decadence This decadence This decadence This decadence