Peter Cetera, No Explination

you really took me by suprise your someone i've needed for the laugh time your heart was cleverly disguised and it didn't look that way in my mind, tell me how could it be i was the last to know darling, i couldn't read what was in your mind to turn around and love me

Chorus:

With no explination i gave you everything i had i didn't know that you would take it with sweet consideration and after all that we've been through i can't belive it's true until i hear you say...

my mouth is still wet from our last kiss what's loving me oh what intentions? what were the signs and the times i missed? i need you more than i could mention

i won't ever accept you leaving for someone else (someone else) baby if something is wrong darling i need to know don't ever leave me
