

Peter Cetera, You Never Listen To Me

You say not now, it's too late
Now's not the time, it can wait
You never listen to me
Some things are hard to forget
It's time to do something you might regret
You never listen to me

I think that you must be blind
Havn't you noticed that I'm not around
Waisting your precious time

All that I want
Is knowing that someone will notice me
I can't go on
Knowing that you never bother to listen to me

Losing the will to survive
You never act like you know I'm alive
You never listen to me

All that I need
Is knowing that someone remembers me
I can't go on
Knowing that you never bother to listen to me
