

Pixie Lott, Break Up Song

By the grace of your lips
I have not searched happiness
And the love in our hearts
Shone a way through the dark

But lately lately lately lately I
Have found it overwhelmingly to cry
And maybe maybe maybe we can try to make it right or to make you mine

This is our break up song
But can we just get along for the night?
No fights, one less goodbye
For just a moment let me hope and maybe hold back all the things we haven't said
Make love like we just met

By the way that you kiss
I know it's over, yeah all of this
And the one world that we knew
Has broken in two

Coz lately lately lately lately I
Have found a kind of change I can't deny
And baby maybe maybe if we try
We can make it right, yeah make it right

This is our breakup song but Can we just get along for the night, no fights one less goodbye
For just a moment let me hope and maybe hold back all the things we haven't said
Make love like we just met

I'm gona miss the way you held me in the morning
I'm gonna miss the future that we planned, the way we fought,
The way we kissed, the heat inside, that tenderness
Love was our religion

This is our breakup song but can we just get along for the night?
In spite, of the hurt we hide
For old times sake can you just take me by the waist and hold me underneath these sheets
Make love like our first week
