Plain White T's, Losing Myself

Stuck in a moment, At ten past nine, Don't know if she's showing, I wish she would tell me what was on her mind, I can't stand not knowing. Why am I here?

She used to say I was the love of her life, Lately she ain't showing, I used to say she's gonna to make a good wife, Where is this thing going? Why am I here?

(Every word)
Every word I write,
I can't help losing myself
(With Every Kiss)
Every kiss goodnight,
I can't help losing myself,
I can't help losing myself, In you.

Stuck in a moment that was 10:09, No way she is showing, These games that she plays, aren't even worth my time, Where is this thing going? Why am I here? Why am I here?

(With Every word)
Every word I write,
I can't help losing myself
(With Every Kiss)
Every kiss goodnight,
I can't help losing myself, In you.

Well you don't wanna let me go, But you can't have it both ways, no, What can I do? 'Cause I can't help falling, And I can't stop calling you. What can I do?

(With Every word)
Every word I write,
I can't help losing myself
(With Every Kiss)
Every kiss goodnight,
I can't help losing myself

(Every time)
Every time We fight,
I can't do anything right
(When we say)
When we say goodbye
I can't help losing myself,
I can't help losing myself, In you.
