Plain White T's, Sing My Best

wake up in the morning long way from home alarm clock is a warning im still alone set up for a letdown opened my eyes new name for the same town it's no suprise its another rough day alright but i cant wait til tonight, tonight, tonight, tonight i cant wait til tonight, tonight, tonight, tonight wake up in the morning another day grey skies bring the storm in things never change stare out of the window through tired eyes so hard just to let go it's no suprise that its another rough day alright but i cant wait til tonight, tonight, tonight, tonight i cant wait til tonight, tonight, tonight, tonight tonight i'll get up on that stage and all my problems seem to go away tonight i'll get up in those lights and i will sing my best for you tonight

No i cant wait til tonight, tonight, tonight, tonight i cant wait til tonght, tonight, tonight, tonight i cant wait til tonight...