Poison The Well, Left With Nothing

If you found love Why do i stand alone

So many feelings disregarded

As you walked away

Did you take a second glance or a small hesitation

Or was it just a lie

Another period in your life

Our bond never broken

I'll always care

Your face impounded

In my memory

Although my insignificance is great

Your lack of innocence is my reminder

As emptiness

Fulfills my soul

(chorus)

Now you've gone away

And i'm all alone

The first for so many things

So many secrets shared

And now i'm left with nothing

Except the scars I bear

I can still see

The look upon your face

As you walked

Forever out of my life

Remnants of you

An everyday reminder

As I pick up the pieces of my broken heart

(chorus)
