Primal Fear, Colony 13

Striking through the dust With elemental forces Keeping up the quest And all will turn to wrecks

Hiding in the dark No one ever sees me The enemy returns The land will turn to black

You hide in dignity Our time is done Gone for eternity When all is gone

You cry, you die It's your last resort When all is turning black In Colony 13 You see the sky It's the final sign When all is turning black In Colony 13

Racing through the light At cyberspeed and silver You feel it in your bones It's the final call

Red on the horizon Screams out of the dirt The final gunshot sounds You take the final breath

You hide in dignity Our time is done Gone for eternity When all is gone

You cry, you die It's your last resort When all is turning black In Colony 13 You see the sky It's the final sign When all is turning black In Colony 13
