

Problematic, F*ck Love

Was on the verge of quitting then you came into my life
Made me feel special maybe it'll be alright
Now I'm lost for words so de*d inside
How you say you love me when you messing with another guy?
Jokes on me shoulda stayed alone
Both lonely coming from a broken home
You'd always play victim blaming me for everything
Guess I needed time apart so I could really think

Too many bridges burned you don't get another chance
But I'm thankful cause it turned me to a better man
Why the h*ll can I still not get you out my head?!
Had to write this song so maybe then I can forget

Fk love I don't need you
All your lies and the bullsh*t can see through
Keep your memories cause I won't miss
All I know is I will never trust no b*tch no

I can spot jealousy from a mile away
Projecting insecurities another toxic trait
Pointless hours spent up on the phone is down the drain
Drown yourself in liquor but it will not solve the pain
Said "I love you" such a big mistake
Cannot undo guarantee I'll find a way
Had my soul missing but chu were gold digging
Ignite the fire so Ima light a match to go with it

Never meant to be had to let go
I will never swallow my pride
Just know one day will be good enough
Everything heals in time
Fk love I don't need you
Can't erase the damage done
Such a waste just another heartbreak
I'm kinda tripping out as I write this song
