

Project Pitchfork, Daimonion You Hear Me In You

six - you close your eyes five - control your breath four - you feel the warmth three - relax your mind two - do you feel safe one - now you are here
it seems to be unreal
the colors fade away
like a puppet on a string
where will we march today
the string was always there
it leads up to the sky
the colors fade away
who can tell me why?

six - you've got to get to know yourself five - or are you just a marionette four - following the subtle rules three - given by the mighty two - following the subtile rules one - given by the mighty

who can tell me why?

or are you just a marionette following the subtle rules given by the mighty
day by day
the same mistake a life ruled by fear and hate
following the subtile rules

living for the weekend is your meaning of life now you tell me why you are living a lie
