Radiohead, Big Boots (Man O War)

Drift all you like From ocean to ocean Search the whole world But drunken confessions And hijacked affairs Just make you more alone If you come home I'll bake you a cake Made of all their eyes I wish you could see me Dressed for the kill You're my man of war You're my man of war The worms will come for you So unplug the phone Stop all the taps It all comes flooding back From poison clouds to poisoned dwarf You're my man-o-war You're my man-o-war The worms will come for you Big boots For you Big boots
