

Rage, Immortal Sin

So sweet and defenceless offers all to my dependence Just relax your spirit
we're all alone

Tied up in the darkness you've forgotten your existence waiting for the fire and what's to come

Lost imaginations coming back to scare the body GOing down in fever drawn to the flame

A sweet pain to cut the indifference a forbidden love to come

You're immortal, you're immortal sin

Coming from behind you feel the fingers reaching higher Crawling on the floor
you won't get away

So sweet and dependent I will offer my demands
So just relax your spirit
we're all alone

And you know you shouldn't walk this way but you never want to hear

Now you're gone too far...
