

Rainer Maria, The Imperatives

when we can't begin unless it's with an argument we're losing out on love for the sake of it

I was thinking we can go and live in a monastery
throw away the imperatives make our pockets empty

'cuz I'm feeling bankrupt and I'm losing speed and I don't wanna hold on to anything

when I misbehaved
to get what I wanted was that wrong when what I wanted was love and affection

let's get out
let's get out
let's get out
let's get out

in a monastery
