Real Estate, Talking Backwards

We can talk for hours And the line is still in gear We?re not getting any closer You're too many miles away.

And I might as well be talking backwards Am I making any sense to you? And they only thing that really matters Is the one thing that I can't seem to do.

When that night was over And the field was lit up bright And I want to tell you Nothing I said came out right.

And I might as well be talking backwards Am I making any sense to you? And they only thing that really matters Is the one thing that I can't seem to.

And I might as well be talking backwards Am I making any sense to you? And they only thing that really matters Is the one thing that I can't seem to Make sense of this dream It's the one thing I can't seem to do!