

Reality Check, Apart From You

in the rearview mirror I now see that I can't run away from your love for me
is there any other way
apart from you
no matter what I do I can't escape the truth
is there any other way
apart from you
your strength can get me through
I know that I'd never survive the whole of me would soon subside
nothing else matters that I do
apart from you
I need direction
and I know that I can't make these changes on my own
