Red House Painters, I Feel The Rain

i feel the rain fall down my back i'm going back to my place of work to get things done to get them right but i'll mess them up and i always do buried in words about you this year, oh what a year i layed around just feeling down and from our happy room i watched the seasons as they flew and then when christmas came i layed my head to rest in chains cause with my finished work i turn my head back still didn't work and i put it to bed you often swore to find me dead too many times enough to start again to give it up and then the morning came til i felt day til i'm awake cause with my finished work i turn my head back still didn't work i feel the rain fall down my back i'm going back
