

Rez Band, Lovin' You

I love the rain, I love the autumn wind,
I love the snow, I love the space I'm in,
I love the cold on a winter's day,
I love the truth of the things you say.

Sometimes my world gets spinning like a top,
No matter what the price, I just can't stop.

I can't stop loving you,
I can't stop loving you, no, no,
I can't stop loving you, no matter what they say.

I love the waves on a stormy sea,
I love the stars, the way they shine at me,
I love the moon, I see your light in it,
I love your word, there's so much life in it.

Sometimes I feel my world is falling down,
How good to know, Lord, that I've been found.

I can't stop loving you,
I can't stop loving you, no, no,
I can't stop loving you, no matter what they say.

Oh.

There's nothing more that I'd like to do than to see your face and fly away with you,
To pass those gates and enter Heaven with my wife and all my children.

Oh Lord, I know you must be coming soon,
I'll stand before this world and shout, "It's true."

I can't stop loving you,
I can't stop loving you, no, no,
I can't stop loving you, no matter what they say,
I can't stop loving you,
I can't stop loving you, no, no,
I can't stop loving you, no matter what they say,
Lord, I can't stop loving you,
I can't stop loving you, no, no,
I can't stop loving you, no matter what they say.
