

Rheostatics, An Offer

Tim Vesely

See what I have to offer, and take your time.
Then maybe make an offer that makes you mine.

You reason hard and sober, that's half way true.
Then after you've had your water, I wine, I wine.

I tear an open letter to better you to see.
Now I feel so much better. Do it, do it to me.

I came down for a walking and to talk with you.
We get joined at the forehead like we're meant to.
I offer me to you.
