

Richie Aufrechtig, Across The Nation

Well I know that you want it
And I know that you need it
But tomorrow comes too soon

I know that you feel it
Well I hope that you feel it
'Cause it's late in the afternoon

The dogs are barking
The cars are parking
And you know the truth

The storm it is breaking
The room it is shaking
And you are so alone

What is this
What is this love
What is this
What is this love
That I feel when you're so far away

And I will write another song
With the same four chords I've used so long
This time may be getting what I wanted
And I will wait for time to pass
And as the moment nears at last
Maybe this time you'll give me what I wanted

What is this
What is this love
What is this
What is this love
That I feel when you're so far away

The sun it is dying
The wind it is crying
And you are leaving me back home
