

Robbie Williams, Better Days

I'm gonna write you a letter
I think the sooner the better
Cause the time is right to find a better day

I'm an angry young man
Man I wish I was young
My guitar is out of tune even that's highly strung

And the words we didn't say last night
Shook the world to the core
We had nothing to say last night
We'd said it all before
And I say

Lonely times and lonely tears
Will fade away when you disappear
The time is right for me to stray
I'm gonna find a better day

Kickin off cause it suits me
I'm gonna leave the country
And the time is right to find a better day

Makin sense of my past now
I'll only love when I want to
Cause the time is right to find a better day

Maybe I didn't love you
Maybe you loved her less
Would you have preferred it
If I'd have worn the dress
Cos I say

Lonely times and lonely tears
Will fade away when you disappear
The time is right for me to stray
I'm gonna find a better day

Lonely times and lonely tears
Will fade away when you disappear
The time is right for me to stray
I'm gonna find a better day

No where to run to baby
No where to hide
I got no where to run to baby
And nowhere to hide
