

Robert Plant, Life Begin Again

This is the day and the hour
The time when the changing begins
The land and the sky fall quiet
Silence moves over the plain

The heat of Gwynmer(?) still burning
The heart still beating within
Her songs echoing the fallen
For life to begin again

This is the day and the hour
The time when the changing begins
The land and the sky fallen silent
Fire moves o'er the plain
Fire moves o'er the plain
The silence moves over the plain

The land and sky fall quiet
The heart is beating within
Her song echoes the calling
For life to begin again
For life to begin again, ooh
