Robin Thicke, I Need Love

Settle down love for a minute I wanna take you by the hand and hold you I've waited so many nights To see you And I wanna take out all my problems on you

I can do better than make love to you Better than make you say my name Please, please, please Oh don't you make me have to beg I need love, love, love, love I need love, love, love, love

Angel won't you slow down Seems like you're always packing and unpacking again And I now that the hardest thing is to please you You would bring most men to their knees

I can do better than make love to you Better than make you scream my name Please, please, please Ohh don't you make me have to beg 'Cause I need love, love, love, love, love I need love, love, love
