Roxette, Stupid

Everything you do you do so right The clothes you buy are awfully nice You wear your image bullet-proof Your stocks are always thru the roof

You make me feel so stupid Make me feel stupid

And you grew up, made in the sun They all loved you from Day 1 You always remembered everyone's name You always won the guessin' games, ooh yeah

You made me feel stupid Made me feel stupid And I'm not gonna take it anymore Not gonna take it anymore

You always pick the perfect wine Your money is sure enough greener than mine Your wit pours out when you open your mouth My hometown is smaller than your house

You make me feel so stupid Make me feel stupid And I'm not gonna take it anymore Not gonna take it anymore
