

Roy Orbison, A New Star

Orbison Dees

The evening sun is falling that old blue moon is calling
My guardian angel in the sky came through
To help all my dreams come true there's a new star.
There's a new star coming tonight, there's a new love burning
So bright for a new star of love is born between the earth and sky for you and I.

There's a new star

The moon was dull, the sky was cold and gray

There were no stars to light my lonely way

And then I traced the lovelight in your eyes

To a new star twinkling in the sky burning bright, day and night

Now I'm alright, now we're together, lovers forever

A new star, a new star to light our way

There's a new star burning for us, there's a new world turning for us

There's a new star sparkling in the sky.

There's a new star shining somewhere and we know the reason why

There's a new star way up there for a true love

A new star for our love will never die.
