

Roy Orbison, Domino

(Orbison)

ROY ORBISON (Sun, 1956)

There's a cat in town that you might know

He goes by the name of Domino

A long tweed jacket and a diamond ring

A blue sport car, he's a crazy king

They love him so that cat called Domino, Domino, Domino

Well the girls all think that he's a real gone guy

They all flip when he walks by

Shanty clothes and cool white shoes

He's rearm' to go and never sings the blues

They love him so that cat called Domino, Domino, Domino

He's got cool black hair and a solid style

Long side-bums and a crazy smile

A thousand girls, they'll tell you so

They dig that cat called Domino

They love him so that cat called Domino, Domino, Domino

Well Domino, cool man go, Domino, they love him so

Get out of the way, here comes Domino, Domino, Domino
