Roy Orbison, Fallingro

Goodnight Roy Orbison

My lovely woman child I found you out running wild with someone new You've been untrue And everybody knows we're through But I can't say good-bye to you No matter what you do My heart won't let you go Although I know you go with someone new I think of you I think of how you kiss Your tenderness, with all of this I miss the way you say goodnight Bittersweet your kisses When my heart still misses The way that things used to be But I know you're strong for other arms you long for And you can never come back to me Not just for yesterday Tonight or tomorrow Ah, but forever, I'll hear you say goodnight Goodnight, goodnight turned out to be a lie And I can't help it if I cry Goodnight, my love, sléep tight, my love, goodnight
