

Roy Orbison, The Last Song

This is the last song
The very last song tonight
And the song is blue

This is the last song
Yeah, the last song, hold me tight
Though i shouldn't be with you

This is the last time
The very last time i'll see you
Hold me close and don't you cry

This is the last song
The very last song tonight
And this song means goodbye

I won't forget the melody

That takes your love away from me
But i guess what will be will be

And tonight, in your arms
Is like heaven to me
But i belong to someone else
And she's waiting, waiting
Waiting for me

Goodbye, goodbye
And remember, remember me
And this song will be our song
And this song will be our song
And the last song for me
