Roy Orbison, Time And Again

Time and again I've come back to you Even though I know what you'll do You'll break my heart right in two But time and again I've come back to you

Time and again I've been a fool for you Time and again what else can I do I'll be right there waiting, yeah, waiting

Though it's all in vain, time and again

Time and again I've come back to you Even though I know what you'll do You'll break my heart right in two But time and again I've come back to you
