

Roy Orbison, What Kind Of Love

I'll give you the best I can give you, baby That's all I can give We'll live it the best we can live it, baby
As long as we live

What kind of love never turns you down what kind of love lifts you off the ground Turns your life around
What kind of love makes you go out in the wind
and the driving rain

What kind of love runs through your heart with a pleasure so close to pain
What kind of love
Only this love that I have

I'll show you the best I can show you, baby That's all I can show you I'll know you the best I can know you baby
As long as I know you

What kind of love never turns away what kind of love never makes you pay Hears you when you pray
What kind of love makes you go out in the wind
and the driving rain
What kind of love runs through your heart with
a pleasure so close to pain
What kind of love
Only this love that I have

This love I know is all I have This love I have is all I know
So I won't let go

What kind of love makes you go out in the wind
and the driving rain
What kind of love runs through your heart with
a pleasure so close to pain
What kind of love only this love that I have
What kind of love only this love that I have
