

Royal Hunt, Break Your Chains

I'm raising sails to leave my father's land
No longer waiting for the tide
It took a while to try and understand
How do I want to live my life

You live it or lie it
Anyway you want

I'll cross the ocean to another side
To see the world you've never seen
I'm walking straight into the glowing light
Feeling as twice the man I've ever been

You live it or lie it
No reason to deny it
Stop dreaming, start living
All you have to do is break your chains
Break your chains
Break your chains
Break your chains
Break your chains

Uncounted wonders no one's seen before
I've watched them rise and disappear
It could be you, just open the door
And take that first step to overcome your fear

You live it or lie it
No reason to deny it
Stop dreaming, start living
All you have to do is break your chains
Break your chains
Break your chains
Break your chains
Break your chains
