

ROZES, Fragile

You let me fall
Into your arms
You're my savior
And it's so sad
But beautiful
I'm so fragile

And I know what it feels like
What it feels like being alone
You let them take
You let them take, take you home
And I know what it feels like
What it feels like to wanna be held
You get so tired
You get so tired of being cold

I know what forever is
Forever's just another myth
Even if the pieces fit
It's a lie, it's a lie
I'm tired of promises
Cause promises are full of shit
Forever's always so short-lived
And then it dies, it dies

You'd say my name
Like it was safe
Inside your mouth
You held my face
Like a diamond
Like I mean something

And I know what it feels like
What it feels like being alone
You let them take
You let them take, take you home
And I know what it feels like
What it feels like to wanna be held
You get so tired
You get so tired of being cold

I know what forever is
Forever's just another myth
Even if the pieces fit
It's a lie, it's a lie
I'm tired of promises
Cause promises are full of shit
Forever's always so short-lived
And then it dies, it dies

Let them take you home
And let them say what they think you want
Cause forever is one night long

I know what forever is
Forever's just another myth
Even if the pieces fit
It's a lie, it's a lie
I'm tired of promises
Cause promises are full of shit
Forever's always so short-lived
And then it dies, it dies

I know what forever is

Forever's just another myth
And even if the pieces fit
Well it's a lie, it's a lie
I'm tired of the promises
Cause promises are full of shit
And even if the pieces fit
It's a lie, it's a lie