Ryba And The Witches, Rain On Your Back

Rain on your back And wind in your face When you lied You could survive

I am the blood and you are the flame you are so beauty Kicking down the evils door I need so more Black heart devil in the night Getto in my mind You gotta play if you Wanna survive...
You wanna survive

Rain on your back And wind in your face When you lied You could survive

The rain comes down You could survive

You are the flame and I am the same
You are so beauty Life is snake that
bites on my neck
every day check
So kill your jealousy and
watch you bleed
I wanna hit
I down on my knees
mother please
I down on my knees

Rain on your back And wind in your face When you lied You could survive

The rain comes down You could survive The rain comes down In a funky town
