

Rykers, The Edge

as i travel far and wide all the people that i meet some are very kind to me while some look to defeat but the ones that i am thankful for are the one that did me wrong they taught me an important lesson on how to get along you have to work to get along in life causes nothing comes for free the easy way won't work out wake up and try to see there's nothing you could say that i would want to hear maybe when you wisen up sometime late next year and when there's darkness and the lights are dim i have no fear cause i know we will win those stupid minds and stupid thoughts will always find what we were taught was never easy all those stupid minds in easy ways will be stuck on a ledge we have the edge on ignorance and so do you
if you think this makes sense
