

Sabaton, Panzerkampf

Into the Motherland the German Army Marched!

In the Soviet Union, summer 1943
Tanks line up in thousands, as far the eye can see
Ready for the onslaught, ready for the fight
Waiting for the Axis, to march into the trap

Mines are placed in darkness
In the cover of the night
Waiting to be triggered
When the time is right

In the night invasion
Imminent attack
Once the battle started
There's no turning back

The end of the Third Reich grows near
It's time has come to an end
The end of an era is here
It's time to attack

Into the Motherland the German Army Marched!
Comrades, stand side by side, to stop the Nazi charge
Panzers on Russian soil, a thunder in the east.
One million men at war, Soviet wrath unleashed

Fields of Prokhorovka, to the heat of battle burned
Suffer heavy losses, the tide of war is turned Driving back the Germans, fighting on for front
Hunt them out of Russia, out of Soviet land

Bringing close to front line, force the axis to retreat
Sending all the reserves, securing their defeat
Soldiers of the Union, broke the citadel
Ruined of an army, Facists rest in hell

The end of the Third Reich grows near
It's time has come to an end
The end of an era is here
It's time to attack

Into the Motherland the German Army Marched!
Comrades, stand side by side, to stop the Nazi charge
Panzers on Russian soil, a thunder in the east.
One million men at war, Soviet wrath unleashed

Onward Comrades! Armies of the Soviet Union, charge!

Oh mother Russia, union of lands
Will of the people, strong in command
Ohh mother Russia, union of lands
Once more victorious, the Red Army stands

The end of the Third Reich grows near
It's time has come to an end
The end of an era is near
It's time to attack

Into the Motherland the German Army Marched!
Comrades, stand side by side, to stop the Nazi charge
Panzers on Russian soil, a thunder in the east.
One million men at war, Soviet wrath unleashed.
