

Sabaton, Uprising

Warsaw Rise!

Do you remember when,
when the Nazis forced their rule on Poland 1939 and the allies turned away
From the underground rose a hope of freedom as a whisper
City in despair, but they never lost their faith

Women, men and children fight they were dying side by side And the blood they shed upon the streets was a sacrifice willingly paid

Warsaw, city at war
Voices from underground, whispers of freedom 1944 help that never came Calling
Warsaw, city at war
Voices from underground, whispers of freedom
Rise up and hear the call History calling to you Warszawo, walcz!

Spirit, soul and heart in accordance with the old traditions 1944 still the allies turn away Fighting street to street in a time of hope and desperation Did it on their own and they never lost their faith

All the streetlights in the city broken many years ago Break the curfew, hide in sewers
Warsaw, it's time to rise now
